Not illustrated. 1896 Excerpt: .No one likes to surrender place and power, especially when they lead to emoluments. Some lawyers do not like a Chancery suit to end, and resist reforms which will reduce their fees, and render them less indispensable. Chartered companies in some cases resent to the utmost, and are tempted to cause bloodshed, in order that their vested interest may not suffer, and their monopoly not be destroyed by open competition. In like manner in the case of Eehoboam, nothing less than a message from God would have induced him to allow his kingdom to be rent in twain, and the Ten Tribes to be under a sceptre held by another hand. Again still more to the point--what was it which roused to its highest pitch the malignant enmity of the Pharisees and Chief Priests against the Lord of Life, if not the direct forebodings that they...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
