It is a coined and most unsatisfactory word; so is its companion instrumentation. But modern usage is much addicted to coining words, especially when a long word saves the trouble of saying several short ones. Orchestration is shorter than scoring for the orchestra, and instrumentation than arranging for the different instruments. It is only in quite latter times that the word orchestration has been so much heard amongst the talk of the people; this is probably attributable to the advent amongst us of certain operas of the modern German school, whereas the use of the orchestra is the chief and only point of interest in the performance.
