Excerpt: . . . 11 Afghanistan, but the national security adviser has many important responsibilities in addition to those two theaters. For example, he must contend with the Middle East peace process, counter-pro-liferation around the world in places like Iran and North Korea. I worry that increasing the span of control of the national security adviser could dilute the homeland security mission and make it just one more item on an already overburdened list. That said, I wish to be clear. We should judge any reorganization by the substance and criteria that I have suggested above. We must be careful not to assume that a merger means the President cares less about homeland security. We must resist, as I have said, this easy organizational chart test and look to the substance of how responsibilities are allocated and how we are being protected. Again, I would suggest that the committee look at three funda-mental questions. No. 1,...
